

7.1.1 REFLECTION

After working with the “Roaring Twenties” for the last 8 days, reflect on the experience. I am looking for three paragraphs: 1) Describe the process of creating your Keynote/essay including anything you learned, how you researched, etc.; 2) Summarize the feedback you received on the 7.1.1 discussion page (click here and it should take you there) describing how others felt about your work; 3) Reflect upon your own work and describe steps you could take to make it better, even if your grade was 20/20. Export to PDF and upload to your wiki and link to your student page when finished.

This project was easy for me because I was interested in my topic. I picked the Sacco and Vanzetti case because I thought it would be fun to discuss a case in which there was a lot of arguments. I learned that there were many problems in the case and many didn't feel that the trial was fair. My research was mostly based on the information from wikipedia, but a good amount of the information I already knew. It was a fun project to do for me, especially because I was interested in the topic.

I didn't get a crazy amount of replies to my project, but the ones that I did have gave me some good tips. They said to add some color to my project and a couple more pictures. Some of them also said not to use such big words in it so that they could understand it. I also could have spread out the information across more pages so that it didn't seem so crowded. There were a couple things I could have done to make my project better.

I think I did a good job on this project. It was probably one of my better projects because I was interested in the subject. I think I should have made it more exciting than what I did. I could have added more pictures instead of just two and more color to it. I didn't really like how I had a bunch of information on each page, but I was crunched on time from getting the information. Overall, I think it went well.
